FAITH2FINISH

Central Family,

God has been incredibly faithful to our church. What we have experienced over the past three years is nothing short of remarkable. Through your generosity and obedience, we have completed a $5.8 million construction project that is already helping us reach more people and become a church where Jesus truly is changing everything.

And I want to say this again — thank you! Because of your sacrifice, our Made4More campaign has already seen $3.6 million given with only a few months left to go. That is a testimony of God's provision and your faith. Lives are being changed, families are being restored, and the gospel is moving forward because of what we've built together.

But as we celebrate what God has done, we also recognize that we're not finished yet. From the very beginning, we knew this was never just about buildings. It was about positioning our church for greater kingdom impact. And now, we have an opportunity to take our next step together.

I was so excited to announce our next capital campaign: Faith2Finish. This is us following through with our commitment to finish the plan we started many years ago. This new season is about stewardship. It's about reducing our remaining debt so that we can free up resources for ministry, missions, and future opportunities God places in front of us. Simply put, we want to move forward unencumbered and ready to respond quickly and boldly to whatever God calls us to next.

Just like before, this will take all of us. I want to invite you to begin praying now. Ask God how He might lead you to be part of this next step. For some, it may mean continuing your faithful giving. For others, it may be taking a new step of generosity. Whatever it looks like, every step matters.

We have come this far by taking steps of faith together, and I believe with all my heart that God will be faithful to help us finish strong. What we do together in this season will impact lives not just now, but for generations to come. I can't wait to see what God will do next!

Grace & Peace,
Pastor Clayton
